(g) "total disablement" means such disablement, whether of a temporary or permanent nature, as incapacitates a workman for all work which he was capable of performing at the time the injury was sustained:

Provided that permanent total disablement shall be deemed to result from the permanent total loss of the sight of both eyes or from an injury specified in item 1 of the Schedule or from any combination of injuries specified in items 2 to 9 of the Schedule where the aggregate percentage of disability as specified in that Schedule against those injuries amounts to one hundred per cent.;

Provided further that such periodic payments shall not be more frequent than once in each quarter of a year:

Provided further that the rate of any periodic payment after the first shall not be higher than the rate estimated to raise the amount in the Fund after repayment of the advances, if any, paid into the Fund by the Central Government under sub-section (2) of section 11, to a sum of rupees fifteen lakhs.

(2) Whoever contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1) or, having taken out a policy of insurance as required by that sub-section, fails to make any payment by way of premium thereon is subsequently due from him in accordance with the provisions of the Scheme shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and shall also be punishable with a further fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for every day after having been so convicted on which the contravention or failure continues.

10. Prohibition of certain insurance business.—(1) After the date on which the Scheme is put into operation no person shall, except as a person authorised by the Central Government as its agent to issue policies in pursuance of the Scheme, carry on the business of insuring employers in British India against the liabilities for insurance against which the Scheme provides.

(2) Any sum payable in accordance with the provisions of the Scheme by way of premium on a policy of insurance issued under the Scheme and any amount determined as payable under sub-section (1) shall be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

(3) Any person against whom a determination is made under sub-section (1) may, within the prescribed period, appeal against such determination to the Central Government whose decision shall be final.

15. Payment of compensation where employer has failed to insure.—Where an employer has failed to take out a policy of insurance as required by sub-section (1) of section 9, or having taken out a policy of insurance as required by that sub-section has failed to make the payments by way of premium thereon which are subsequently due from him in accordance with the provisions of the Scheme, payment of any compensation for the payment of which he is liable under this Act may be made out of the Fund, and the sum so paid together with a penalty of such amount not exceeding the sum so paid as may be determined by an officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government shall be recoverable from the employer as an arrear of land revenue for payment into the Fund.

17. Composition of offences.—Any offence punishable under sub-section (2) of section 9 may, either before or after the institution of the prosecution, be compounded by the Central Government or by any authority authorised in this behalf by the Central Government on payment for credit to the Fund of such sum as the Central Government or such authority, as the case may be, thinks fit.

18. Bar of legal proceedings.—(1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

(2) No suit shall be maintainable in any civil Court against the Central Government or a person acting as its agent under section 8 for the refund of any money paid or purporting to have been paid by way of premium on a policy of insurance taken out or purporting to have been taken out under this Act.

19. Power to exempt employers.—The Central Government shall exempt any employer from the provisions of this Act on the employer's request, if satisfied that he has before the commencement of this Act entered into a contract with insurers substantially covering the liabilities imposed on him by this Act, for so long as that contract continues.

20. Power to make rules.—(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry into effect the provisions of this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may prescribe—

(a) the principles to be followed in ascertaining the total wages bill of an employer, including provision for the exclusion therefrom of certain categories of wages or of certain elements included in the definition of wages;

(b) the form of the policies of insurance referred to in sub-section (2) of section 7;

(c) the period referred to in clause (g) of sub-section (5) of section 7;

(d) the associations referred to in the proviso to section 8;

(e) the date and the period referred to in sub-section (1) of section 9;

(f) the form of and the manner of preparing and publishing the account referred to in sub-section (4) of section 11;

(g) the periods referred to in sub-section (3) of section 14.

21. Application of the Scheme to Indian States.—(1) If the Central Government is satisfied that by the law of an Indian State provision has been made substantially corresponding to the provision made by this Act imposing liabilities upon employers and requiring them to take out policies of insurance covering such liabilities, the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that this section shall apply to that State.

(2) On the application of this section to any State the Scheme made under this Act shall extend to the undertaking by the Central Government in respect of employers in that State of the same liabilities in the same manner, to the same extent and subject to the same conditions as if such employers were in British India.

(3) On the application of this section to any State the provisions of section 10 shall be deemed to prohibit any person except a person authorised by the Central Government as its agent to issue policies in pursuance of the Scheme from carrying on after the date of the notification by which this section is applied the business of insuring employers in that State against liabilities insurance against which is provided under the Scheme.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th July 1943:—

L. A. BILL No. 25 OF 1943.*

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1943.

2. Amendment of section 503, Act V of 1898.—In section 503 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) (hereinafter referred to as the said Code),—

(a) for sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) When the witness resides in an Indian State the commission may be issued to the officer, who is, for the time being, the Political Agent for such State, and when the witness resides in a Tribal Area, the commission may be issued to the officer of the Central Government exercising the powers of a District Magistrate in, or in relation to, such area.";

(b) for sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(4) Where the commission is issued to such officer as is mentioned in sub-section (2), he may, in lieu of proceeding in the manner laid down in sub-section (3),—

(a) delegate his powers and duties under the commission to any officer subordinate to him whose powers are not less than those of a Magistrate of the first class in British India, or

(b) where the commission is for the examination of a witness residing in an Indian State, forward it for execution to the State Court, if any, recognised by the Crown Representative by notification in the official Gazette as a Court to which commissions may be forwarded under this sub-section, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the witness resides."

3. Amendment of section 505, Act V of 1898.—In section 505 of the said Code,—

(a) in sub-section (1),—

(i) for the words "and the Magistrate", the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"and, except in a case to which clause (b) of sub-section (4) of section 503 applies, the Magistrate";

(ii) after the words "such interrogatories" the following sentence shall be added, namely:—

"In a case to which clause (b) of sub-section (4) of section 503 applies, the officer to whom the commission is issued shall forward such interrogatories to the Court to which he forwards the commission for execution.";

(b) in sub-section (2), for the word "officer" the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"except in a case to which clause (b) of sub-section (4) of section 503 applies, before such officer".

4. Amendment of section 507, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (1) of section 507 of the said Code, after the words "duly executed", the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"or, in a case to which clause (b) of sub-section (4) of section 503 applies, has been again received by the officer by whom it was forwarded to the State Court".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 503 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, provides that where the attendance of a necessary witness residing in an Indian State cannot be procured without unreasonable delay, expense or inconvenience, a commission may be issued for his examination to the officer representing the Crown Representative in that State. On receipt of the commission the officer is required to proceed to the place where the witness is or to summon him to appear before him for the purpose of taking down his evidence. He is also empowered to delegate his powers and duties under the commission to any officer subordinate to him whose powers are not less than those of a Magistrate of the first class in British India.

2. As early as 1918 some States represented that this procedure was prejudicial to their interests and privileges, and suggested that provision should be made to enable such commissions to be executed by the State Courts instead of by Political Officers. The Conference of Ruling Princes and Chiefs held in 1919 recommended the introduction of such a provision on a reciprocal basis. A Bill designed to give effect to that recommendation was introduced and passed in the Council of State in September, 1921, but, meeting with opposition in the Legislative Assembly, it was allowed to lapse for the time being.

3. The existing legal position, however, continues to give rise from time to time to considerable inconvenience, and it is felt that a remedy should be contrived. As the law stands Political Officers in Indian States have a statutory duty to perform but have no power to compel witnesses to appear before them. For this purpose they have to rely on the co-operation of the Durbars, some of whom regard as an infringement of their prerogative right the exercise by Political Officers of a quasi-judicial function within their territory. The execution of a commission in a State far removed from the headquarters of the Political Officer charged with the task results in considerable inconvenience and expense either to the witness or to the Political Officer or to both. To avoid these difficulties in the execution of commissions Political Officers sometimes forward them to a State Court for execution although that procedure is not authorised by the law.

*The Governor General has been pleased to give the previous sanction required by section 108(1)(c) read with section 313(4)(a) of the Government of India Act, 1935, to the introduction of this Bill in the Legislative Assembly.

4. Section 21 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903, enables a criminal Court in an Indian State to have commissions for the examination of witnesses executed by British Indian Courts. This Bill, by the amendment it proposes in sub-section (4) of section 503 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, will authorise the Political Officer to forward a commission for the examination of a witness to a State Court within whose jurisdiction the witness resides, if that State Court has been recognised by the Crown Representative as one competent for the purposes of section 503 to execute such commissions. At the same time by the amendment made in sub-section (2) of section 503 an ambiguity in the reference to tribal areas has been removed. The other amendments proposed by the Bill are of a consequential character.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 28th July, 1943:—

L. A. BILL No. 28 OF 1943.

A Bill to provide for the removal of social disabilities among certain classes of Hindus.

Preamble.—WHEREAS Hindu Shastras admit the existence of four Vernas only and not a fifth one;

AND WHEREAS it is being increasingly felt now-a-days that the existence of a fifth Verna, viz., the untouchable class, has been causing great social harm to the solidarity of the Hindu Society;

AND WHEREAS in certain matters even this class, viz., the Harijans, backward class, depressed class, are being legally recognised in the adjudication of rights and duties in Civil and Criminal proceedings, in public schools of education which has been injuring the Hindu Society as a whole;

AND WHEREAS untouchability of man in human society in the second part of the twentieth century is a slur on the society which permits its continuance and scandalous observance;

AND WHEREAS such condition in Hindu society is repugnant to modern conditions and ideas of justice and humanity;

AND WHEREAS it should no longer be recognised by law or otherwise enforced but should be totally discouraged;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short Title and Extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Removal of Hindu Social Disabilities Act, 194 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

2. Removal of Social Disabilities among certain classes of Hindus.—Notwithstanding any law, custom, usage or prescription to the contrary, no subject of His Majesty, resident in British India, shall, by reason of his belonging to any particular community or class amongst the Hindus generally known as achutes or untouchables, depressed classes, backward classes from olden times and recently called the Harijans (a name coined by Mahatma Gandhi and adopted by the Indian National Congress) be disabled or prevented from being admitted into any private or a Government-aided or Government educational institution (general or technical or professional) or from being appointed to any public office or from having full and unobstructed or unobjected access to the use of any drinking wells, tanks, streams, pathways, lanes or streets, private or public, or to any place of worship to which the Hindu public has access or to any such institution dedicated for public use maintained or paid out of public donations, subscription or contribution, or to any place of public meetings or public worship held under any trusteeship or endowment for public welfare.

3. Non-recognition of such disabilities by all courts.—No Court whatsoever, Civil, Revenue or Criminal, or Public authority or local authority shall, while adjudicating any matter or executing any order or carrying on the affairs entrusted to such authority, recognise any such civic or social disabilities imposed by any law, usage, custom, or prescription on any such person simply for belonging to such classes as generally known as untouchables, depressed, or backward classes and lately as Harijans.

4. Disuse of certain expressions.—On the coming into force of this Act the words 'backward class', 'depressed class', 'untouchables', 'Harijans', and 'scheduled class' shall cease to exist in any statute book and in common usage.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

To have any untouchable in human society in the second quarter of the 20th century is not only a standing scandal to the society which persists in its existence and continuity but is a disgrace to the society. To retain a large number of people, human beings, in society known as the backward class, the depressed class, the untouchable class, or even by the name, 'Harijan' is condemnable. By one stroke of pen the existence of such a scandal ought to have been removed by Government long ago without caring for the opinion of those who insisted on its continuity. But it is better to be late than never. Mahatma Gandhi, to mitigate the bitterness of the suffering humanity, tried to sugar it by calling the class as 'Harijans'. By this he has established a class which in course of time would have slowly and automatically merged in the 4th Verna in the Sudras. But now it has to be removed by law. The Reformers had created a public opinion against such a bad custom and the depressed classes have shown their righteous indignation against such treatment. The objection raised by certain blind orthodox people in Hindu society against any proposal to do away with such social and civic disabilities deserve no notice—as their objections do not stand to reason nor are conducive to the good of the society. It is high time that these disabilities should be done away with If Hindu society insists on Vernas according to Shastras, they cannot but merge these untouchables in the 4th Verna as they cannot have a fifth Verna recently called the scheduled class. Legislative measures should be taken up to do away with social and civic disabilities of a large number of Hindus who have suffered for ages. Humanity demands it, justice compels it and it is high time that an Act to remove these inabilities should be passed without the least objection and delay.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 28th July 1943:—

L. A. BILL No. 30 OF 1943.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1943.

2. Insertion of a new sub-section (3) in section 60, Act V of 1908.—To section 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908), add the following as sub-section (3):—

"(3) Nothing in clauses (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), (l), (n) and (o) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of this section shall be deemed to exempt to more than one-half of the amounts contemplated therein, in the execution of an order under the Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869), for alimony or costs, or the execution of a decree by the wife or children for maintenance or the execution of a decree for dower debt by the wife against her husband or to the execution of any other decree held by a wife against her husband resulting from the liability of the husband from conjugal relations."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure exempts certain properties of a judgment debtor from attachment and sale in the execution of a decree. It is based on the principle that the judgment debtor should be allowed to have certain essential articles of life, and articles necessary for the earning of his livelihood and a minimum amount for his expenses and for the expenses of the family, and it is only after making a provision for these that he can be forced to pay to his creditors. This undoubtedly is a sound principle. It is, however, clear that the exemption so provided gives the judgment debtor an allowance for the maintenance of his wife and children. The exemption in salary and deposits is not solely for the benefit of the judgment debtor but for the benefit of his wife and children as well, because for the purposes of the society and the state a provision for the maintenance of the family is no less essential than the maintenance of the judgment debtor himself. It follows, therefore, that if the judgment debtor fails to maintain his wife and children they are entitled to their share in the exemption. It is no doubt difficult to fix as to what would be their proper share. But looking to the individuals involved it can, in my opinion, be equitably fixed at one half. If the judgment debtor refuses to maintain his wife and children and discharges his obligations arising out of marital relations he must be prepared to carry on with half of his income and compulsory deposit and pay the other half to his family. The proposition is almost self-evident. Recently there has been a tendency on the part of the husbands to avoid their obligations which they owe to their family and take protection under exemptions which are really intended against outside creditors. To clarify my meaning I may cite a case recently decided by a full bench of the Nagpur High Court reported in 1942 N. I. J. (p. 450). Dr. Nath versus Mrs. Shakuntalabai. In this case the District Judge of Nagpur passed a decree for a judicial separation with an order directing Dr. Nath the husband to pay alimony to Shakuntalabai, the wife, at Rs. 15 per month pendante lite and Rs. 25 as permanent alimony. The wife applied for the execution of that decree and prayed for the attachment of her husband's salary which she stated was Rs. 90. The husband contested that the attachment of the salary which was less than Rs. 100 per mensem was barred by section 60 proviso (1). The contention was negatived by the District Judge on the ground that the order for alimony under section 60 of the Divorce Act which is a special law was independent of considerations of section 60 in respect of salary, as it is the duty of the husband to support his wife and that to exempt the salary from attachment would be to nullify the order under section 37 of the Indian Divorce Act. The husband appealed to the High Court. The appeal was heard by Mr. Justice Neogy, who, in view of the importance of the points involved, referred it to a bench and the case was ultimately decided by a full bench of three Judges, and it was held that the salary could not be attached. Their Lordships however, in their judgment took the opportunity of expressing their views on the inequity of this provision of law. They observed:

"It is no doubt distressing to moral principle that a woman who has obtained an order for alimony should be unable to execute that order by attaching her husband's salary because her husband happens to be a Government servant and his salary does not exceed the minimum which is laid down for exemption in the Code of Civil Procedure. This minimum has been raised from time to time and considerably raised in recent years, and when the Indian Divorce Act became law in the year 1869, any such exemption, if indeed it existed at all, was presumably at such a low figure as to render considerations of any possible conflict immaterial. If a person against whom an order for alimony is made has no property the execution would fail, and in law it must fail, similarly if he has property, that is to say salary, which, by the provision of item (1) to the proviso to section 60 of the Code, is protected. The only remedy is by legislation."

This is not a solitary case, though few cases of the type go to the High Court. The conduct of the husband in such cases cannot be defended either on grounds of equity, justice or morality. It causes great hardship to the deserted wife and children and it is to remove this hardship that this Bill is introduced.

7. Amendment of section 302, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 302 of the said Code and wherever else the words "transportation for life" occur in the said Code, substitute them with the following words:—

"imprisonment of either description which may extend to fourteen years."

8. Amendment of section 303, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 303 of the said Code, for the word "murder" the words "culpable homicide amounting to murder" shall be substituted.

9. Amendment of section 304, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 304 of the said Code, the paragraph beginning with the words "or with imprisonment of either descriptions....." and ending with the words "injury as is likely to cause death" shall be omitted.

10. Amendment of section 307, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 307 of the said Code, for the word "murder" the words "culpable homicide amounting to murder" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In this Bill I am giving the Statement of Objects and Reasons under the various proposed clauses and before entering on that give here in brief a sketch of the same for a proper appreciation of the points involved.

The object of this Bill is threefold.

Firstly it seeks to amend section 34, I. P. C. and to bring it in conformity with section 149 I. P. C. Just as the present section stands it applies only to offences of which 'intention' is a necessary ingredient. It cannot be applied to the offence of 'culpable homicide not amounting to murder' as provided in section 304 second part, which deals with acts resulting in death but committed without any intention to cause the same. In such cases a difficulty arises if the number of persons taking part in the offence is less than five, and the liability of the act fixed on any particular individual as in such cases section 149, I. P. C. cannot apply.

Secondly, it is intended to amend the definition of 'culpable homicide' and replace section 299, I. P. C., with a new draft and make the necessary changes in the subsequent sections for removing certain ambiguities which lead to confusion of thought regarding the framing of charges under sections 302 and 304 and which ultimately affect the defence of the accused in trials before the court of Sessions in cases of capital punishment.

Thirdly it seeks to give power to the courts and especially to the High Court in appeal to pass a proper sentence in cases under sections 302/149, in which transportation for life proves to be too harsh a sentence.

Clause 2.—If out of a number of persons assembled together one person commits a criminal act, the liability of such an act may be fastened on all of such persons under sections 34 and 149 of the Indian Penal Code. The conditions prescribed by these sections for the fastening of the liability are as follows:

Section 34 makes other persons liable if the criminal act is done in furtherance of the common intention of all.

Section 149 extends the liability to other persons if the offence is committed—

(1) in prosecution of the object of that assembly; or

(2) such as the members...knew to be likely to be committed in prosecution of that object.

Thus section 34 only deals with common intention while section 149, deals with common object in the first place and of the knowledge of the likelihood of the commission of the criminal act in the second place. The section 149 is wider than section 34. In cases in which an act is considered to be criminal even in the absence of a particular intention, the liability of the act cannot be extended to other persons under section 34. For example section 34 second part provides a sentence of imprisonment extending to ten years in cases when the death is caused by an act:

"if the act is done with the knowledge that it is likely to cause death but without any intention to cause death."

This gives rise to an anomaly. If one person out of five or more persons causes the death of a person without any intention to cause death, all the persons would be liable with him under section 304, second part read with section 149, I. P. C., if those persons knew that that act was likely to be committed in the prosecution of the common object. But if the number is less than five no liability would attach to other persons as section 149 would not be applicable to them their number being less than five and under section 34 no liability can be attached to them unless common intention is proved. Thus in such cases unless it can be specifically proved as to who caused the death, no person can be convicted under section 304 second part. This loophole was clearly pointed out by the Honourable Mr. Justice Plowden in Emperor versus Ram Nath and others 1943, A. L. J. page 207. In this case four persons were found to have caused the death of one Munnu Teli. His Lordship observed. "The accused have been found guilty of causing Munnu's death by doing an act with the knowledge that they were likely, by such act, to cause his death." If, therefore, five or more accused have been convicted, they could have been found guilty under sections 304/149, because they knew that death was likely to result from the attack on Munnu, but since there are now only four accused, section 34 is involved and the definition is stricter. There must be furtherance of common intention. Under section 304, second part, however, there is not intention of causing death. Section 34 was substituted for the original section in 1873. The second part to section 304 is to be found in the original Act XLV of 1860, but it could not have been part of the original draft. In order to make section 34 applicable to the second part of section 304, it will be necessary to widen it in terms of section 149. Until that is done, accused persons cannot be found guilty under section 304 second part read with section 34. His Lordship had therefore to convict the accused under section 325, I. P. C. The amendment proposed in this clause is intended to remove this defect.

Clauses 3-6 and clauses 8-10:—

Section 299, I. P. C., was originally intended to define all offences which resulted in voluntary causing of death. No sentence was attached to it.

The words "with the intention of causing death or with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death" are reproduced and explained and amplified in section 300 as firstly, secondly and thirdly. Fourthly, was intended to be equivalent in murder cases to the words "with the knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death" in section 299.

But there is a difference between fourthly in section 300 and the above words in section 299 whereas there is no difference between the words "with the intention, etc." in section 299, already quoted and firstly, secondly and thirdly in section 300.

There is no difference between murder and culpable homicide not amounting to murder except for the protection afforded to the accused by the Exceptions to section 300.

A difficulty then arose, was there any offence of culpable homicide and if so, what was its punishment? A punishment was attached to it under section 304 second part. This meant that section 299 ceased to be a definition of all offences resulting in voluntary causing of death and became the definition of culpable homicide only. Consequently the first part of section 299 "with the intention, etc." became not only redundant but confusing and the Illustrations (a) and (b) have turned to be still more confusing because they are clear illustrations of murder, and there is no illustration of 'culpable homicide' as distinguished from 'murder' due to this confusion. It is not properly understood by Sessions Courts that there are three offences of voluntary causing of death (1) Culpable Homicide, (2) Culpable Homicide not amounting to murder and (3) murder. To clarify this position it is suggested that the definition of culpable homicide should be amended as follows:—

"Whoever causes death by voluntarily doing an act with the knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death commits the offence of culpable homicide." To this should be added section 299A. "Whoever commits culpable homicide shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to 10 years or with fine or with both", i.e., the 2nd part of section 304. The Illustrations (a) and (b) to section 299 be deleted as they are illustrations of murder and in its place other illustrations given as are mentioned in the Bill. Changes suggested in other sections are merely consequential. Apart from the importance of clarifying the definitions of these three offences, injustice and waste of time arise at present because an accused is entitled to be defended by counsel if he is charged with murder and it is not always easy to obtain experienced counsel when the Sessions Judge amends a charge from culpable homicide or culpable homicide not amounting to murder to a charge of murder and this is frequently done. It is to remove this confusion and consequent difficulties in the trial of cases that this Bill is introduced.

Clause 7.—By this amendment the sentence of 'Transportation for life' is sought to be substituted by imprisonment for 14 years. Under the present conditions 'transportation for life' is out of question and in practice is being substituted by a term of imprisonment for a term of years. This change in conditions itself requires the fixation of the term of rigorous imprisonment that is to be awarded in lieu of the sentence of the 'transportation for life' as 'transportation for life' cannot be interpreted to mean imprisonment for life. The general conception about transportation for life is transportation for a period of twenty years but in practice it mostly amounts to fourteen years, and so I have kept it at that figure. This is one of the reasons for the proposed amendment, but the chief reason for the suggested change is that in some cases great hardship is involved to persons found guilty under section 302, due to the presence of the words 'transportation for life'. Many cases of riots occur in which two parties fight with each other resulting in, say, death to one member of one of the parties.

Say, there are ten persons in the opposite party. Under section 302 read with section 149 all the ten are liable at least for transportation for life. This causes sometimes great hardship to the accused and the courts are powerless to intervene. Even the High Court cannot reduce the sentence in appeal as transportation for life is considered to be a sentence different in nature from imprisonment and imprisonment is not provided in section 302. A study of part one of section 304 would make this point still more clear. It provides for 'transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years.' The court has got no power to award imprisonment of 11 nor 12 years. There is no intermediate stage between transportation for life and imprisonment for ten years. By substituting the imprisonment for a term of years for 'transportation for life' we will give it in the power of the courts and especially the High Court to reduce the sentence to proper limits within their discretion.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 28th July 1943:—

L. A. BILL No. 34 OF 1943.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is necessary and expedient that the proceedings and speeches in Indian Legislatures should be published in the widest possible manner;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

2. Insertion of new section 93A in Act XLV of 1860.—After section 93 (XLV of 1860) of the Indian Penal Code the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

"93A. Publication of speeches in Indian Legislatures.—No publication made in good faith, of any speech or speeches in any Indian Legislature, is an offence."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is proper and necessary that, for the due and effective exercise and discharge of the functions and duties of the Indian Legislatures, and of the members thereof and for the promotion of wise and good work in the Legislatures, no obstruction or impediment should exist in the way of the publication, not only in official reports, but in the newspapers and journals of the country, of the speeches, votes, and proceedings of the Indian Legislatures. The recent ruling of the President of the Legislative Assembly given on the point of privilege raised by Sardar Sant Singh, M.L.A., in connection with the publication of his speech by Mr. Krishna Kanta Malaviya, M.L.A., in the Abyudhaya, has brought the whole question to the front. The present position is exceedingly dangerous for the Legislature, for the people, and for the Press. Parliamentary work is likely to become a farce if the widest possible publicity is not given to the work therein. It is impossible to expect the newspapers to examine critically the speeches of the members of the Legislatures before publishing them. It is not right that the Sword of Damocles, the executive action under the Press Act, or any other penalty should hang over them. Moreover the electors would like to know how their representatives speak and vote in the Legislature to which they send them. In the Irish Free State such a privilege is conferred by Statute. It has been enacted in England by the Bill of Rights that the freedom of speech, debate or proceedings in Parliament ought not to be impeached.

There is no danger of abuse of this power of publication of the speeches made in the Assembly, because Standing Order 29 of the Legislative Assembly provides that a member while speaking shall not utter treasonable, seditious or defamatory words. Without this right the freedom of speech of the members in the Indian Legislature may be reduced to almost nothing, and this Bill is perfectly consistent with the provisions of the Government of India Act, which under section 67 (7) provides that "No person shall be liable to any proceedings in any court by reason of his speech or vote in either chamber, or by reason of anything contained in any official report of the proceedings of either chamber". These official reports are available to any citizen at reasonable prices. Publication of the proceedings in other newspapers cannot create any different situation. Hence this Bill.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BENGAL, 1943.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1941-42, the area under jute in the Province of Bengal and the Bengal States to which this forecast relates, represent some 79·7 and 1·5 per cent. respectively to the total area under jute in India.]

Season.—As noticed in the Preliminary Forecast the sowings in the white districts commenced under favourable weather conditions. Soon after the season became untoward in the shape of drought in some places and excessive rainfall elsewhere particularly in some North Bengal tracts. Monsoon showers brought in a general improvement all over the province. Some North Bengal tracts were, however, affected by irregular and excessive rainfall and a lack of sunshine. Exceptional fall in the water level in the Brahmaputra badly affected the quality of the crop watered by the Brahmaputra and its branches. The season has, however, been a favourable one for the Daisee tracts except in Burdwan and Midnapore districts.

Condition of the crop.—The crop has been generally fair.

Area.—The area under jute of 2,146,255 acres is the licensed area after elimination of the lands for which licence was issued but which were not actually sown as disclosed on an examination of the jute lands under section 14 of the Bengal Jute Regulation Act.

Outturn.—As in the previous years the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of the divisional normals which remain as follows:—

	Bales per acre.
Dacca and Chittagong Divisions	... 3·7
Rajshahi Division	... 3·5
Presidency and Burdwan Divisions	... 3·2

The total outturn of the crop is estimated at 6,074,140 bales for the province.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BIHAR, 1943.

[NOTE.– On an average of the five years ending 1941-42 the area under jute, to which the Bihar forecast relates, has represented some 9·1 per cent. of the total area under jute in India.]

Acreage.—The final returns of the six jute-growing districts in the province show that the area under jute is 202,300 acres as compared with 232,900 acres last year. The decrease in area is mainly due, as already stated in the Preliminary Forecast, to more land being put under food crops in Purnea.

Weather conditions.—No rain was recorded anywhere in March, except for some very light showers in Purnea and the Santhal Parganas, but the rainfall was general in all districts in April and was above normal. In May the rainfall was again above normal in Purnea but was below normal elsewhere and in June it was above normal in Purnea and Darbhanga but below normal in the other districts. In July the rainfall was below normal in all districts except in the Santhal Parganas where it was above normal.

Outturn.—In Purnea, the outturn of the crop has been estimated at 60 per cent. of the normal while in Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, and the Santhal Parganas the outturn is reported to be 95,65, 75, 70 and 57 per cent. respectively of the normal.

Accordingly I estimate that the outturn this year will be 61 per cent. of the normal as compared with 44 per cent. last year. Taking the normal outturn to be 3½ bales per acre, the gross outturn from 202,300 acres will be 410,500 bales, compared with 340,300 last year. Adding to this 14,500 bales, representing the probable import from Nepal, the forecast figure for Bihar comes to 425,000 bales.

DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENT, ORISSA.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF ORISSA, 1943.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1940-41, the area under jute in the territory to which this forecast relates, represents about 0·6 per cent. of the total area under jute in India.]

Acreage.—The crop is mainly grown in district Cuttack. In other two districts, Balasore and Puri, it is cultivated to a small extent. The total area sown is estimated at 23,800 acres against 23,500 acres in the preceding year.

Character of the season.—The weather and rainfall were favourable for the crop in districts Cuttack and Puri. The crop was damaged by high flood in the northern part of the district of Balasore.

Outturn.—The total outturn of the province is estimated at 84 per cent. of the normal against 71 per cent. in the preceding year. On the basis of 3¼ bales as the standard yield per acre, the gross yield of the province this year comes to 66,447 bales say 66,445 bales against 55,973 bales say 55,975 bales of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF ASSAM, 1943.

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1941-42, the area under jute in Assam, to which this forecast relates, has represented some 8:8 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Character of the season.—As already stated in the Preliminary Forecast, the weather was unfavourable at sowing time in the main jute-growing districts. In June and July also, the weather condition was not favourable due to heavy and continuous rainfall, which checked the growth of the crop to a considerable extent specially in the districts of Goalpara, Darrang, Nowgong and Garo Hills. Local floods also caused some damage in certain districts in the low-lying areas.

Area sown.—The total area under the crop as estimated by the Deputy Commissioners comes to 194,000 acres against the revised figures of 320,200 acres last year and 174,600 acres shown in the Preliminary Forecast of this year. The area reported in the Preliminary Forecast has been revised in six districts.

Outturn.—The outturn per acre has been estimated to be 50 per cent. of the normal against 51 (revised) of last year. On the basis of the new normal yield of 3·3 bales of 400 lbs. each per acre, the total production of the Province is 319,900 bales against 541,300 bales (revised) of last year or a decrease of 41 per cent.

Cachar (Plains)	300	400	200	65	70	900	500	Middle of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to cultivation of more food crops and low price of jute. The weather was not favourable from June to August on account of heavy rainfall. Due to unfavourable weather condition the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Sylhet ..	40,200	64,000	35,200	55	50	128,500	63,400	First week of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to substitution of paddy for jute. The weather was not favourable owing to heavy and continuous rainfall which caused the outturn to fall far below the normal.
Goalpara ..	90,000	85,500	65,000	30	45	76,900	87,800	First week of July. Normal	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute last year and also unfavourable weather condition at the time of sowing. Heavy and continuous rainfall damaged the crop to a considerable extent. Hence the low estimated outturn.
Kamrup ..	61,000	59,100	40,700	56	65	112,500	89,900	Middle of August Normal.	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather, low price of jute and increase in autumn rice cultivation in place of jute. Unfavourable weather condition and considerable damage by local flood in low-lying areas caused the outturn to fall far below the normal.
Darrang ..	21,600	24,000	11,000	65	35	54,600	13,500	Middle of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to the fall in price of jute, Grow More Food campaign and high price of paddy. The weather was not favourable for the crop due to continuous heavy rainfall. Flood also caused some damage in places. These account for the very low estimated outturn.
Nowgong ..	70,000	75,000	33,600	60	45	145,700	48,400	First week of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to the propaganda for growing more food crops, unfavourable weather and fall in the price of jute. Character of weather bad due to excessive rain and it adversely affected the weeding and the growth of the crop. The reasons stated above are responsible for the low outturn.
Sibsagar ..	700	1,000	1,200	90	70	2,300	2,200	First week of August. Normal.	The increase in area is due to growers' anticipation of better price. From June the weather was rainy and also there was a partial damage to the crop by flood in lowlying areas. Hence the outturn is anticipated to be below the normal.
Lakhimpur ..	3,000	3,500	3,100	85	65	11,900	8,100	Middle of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. The weather was not quite favourable for the crop. Flood also caused some damage Hence the low estimated outturn.
Garo Hills (Plains).	6,200	5,900	4,000	40	45	8,000	6,100	Last week of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather at the time of sowing, low price of jute and high price of paddy. The weather from June to August was not favourable due to excessive rain which damaged the crop to a great extent The above reasons caused the outturn to fall far below the normal.
Total ..	293,000	320,200	194,000	51*	50	541,300	319,900

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Preliminary Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1943-44.

Calcutta, the 30th September 1943.

(Note:—On an average of the five years ending 1941-42 the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 7·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in India.)

Character of the season.—The season at the outset was generally favourable for preparatory tillage and sowings except in some West Bengal districts where the weather was hot and dry. Monsoon showers brought in a general improvement all over the province. Some North Bengal tracts were, however, affected by irregular and excessive rainfall and a lack of sunshine. Some damage was also done to crops by flood in some West Bengal districts. On the whole a good harvest is expected for the province.

Acreage.—The total area sown with the different bhadoi crops this year is reported to be 8,727,000 acres as against 6,995,000 and 7,311,200 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 7,935,100 acres as against 6,257,200 and 6,507,000 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—According to the District Officers' estimate, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops for the presidency works out at 90 per cent. of the normal this year as against 67 and 66 per cent. respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

The outturn of autumn rice as estimated by the District Officers works out to 91 per cent. of the normal for the province this year as against 66 and 65 per cent., respectively, in corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Calcutta, the 21st September 1943.

First Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1943-44.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1941-42, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 20·8 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—The weather condition and its effect on the transplantation and growth of the crop have generally been favourable. In certain tracts in North Bengal, however, irregular distribution of rainfall hampered the transplantation and arrested the growth to a certain extent of immature plants. Some damage was done to the crop in the Burdwan Division by the Damodar flood. The outlook at present is promising.

Acreage.—According to the District Officers' estimates, the total area under winter rice works out to 17,872,200 acres as against 16,103,200 and 16,207,100 acres in the corresponding and final forecasts respectively of the last year. The increase in area as compared with the last year is due to the abnormal rise in the price of paddy and the "Grow More Food Campaign".

Outturn.—From the district returns appended it will be seen that five districts report a normal outturn, five districts 92 per cent., eight districts between 85 and 90 and the remaining districts between 75 and 83 per cent. of the normal. According to the above estimates the provincial outturn is anticipated to be 88 per cent. against 78 and 68 per cent. of the normal respectively in the first and final forecasts of 1942-43.

grade to his immediate landlords shall not exceed, by more than ten per cent., the rent payable by his immediate landlord in respect of the land comprised in such under-raiyati holding of the second or a still lower grade.

6. Notwithstanding any contract to the contrary between the parties the rent payable by the tenure-holder or by the under-tenure-holder of any grade whose rent or rate of rent is not fixed in perpetuity to his immediate landlords will be reduced in proportion to the reduction, if any, made in the rent payable by the raiyat in that tenure.

7. After the commencement of this Act, the Court, on an application made for reducing rent in accordance with the provision of this Act, by a tenant whose rent is in excess of the rent as provided by this Act, shall reduce the same in accordance with the provisions of this Act:

Provided that no Court shall make any such order unless notice of the application has been served to all the immediate landlords.

8. The provision of this Act shall not apply to any estate or holding in which the rates of rent are found to be lower than the rates as provided by this Act.

9. Nothing in this Act shall apply to any tenant who holds lands under the Government or who holds land at a rent fixed in perpetuity.

10. The provisions of this Act shall not be affected by anything contained in any other law for the time being in force.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Notwithstanding the enactment in operation of the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act (Bengal Act VII of 1936) the raiyats of Bengal are groaning, as they groaned before, under the burden of the excessive rental, payable to the landlords. Instances of excessive rate of rent are too many to mention. As an instance the excessiveness of rent paid by the raiyats of the Alapshing Pargana in the Mymensingh district may be mentioned. The revenue paid by the landlords of the said pargana amounts to 71 thousand rupees, whereas rent realised by them amounts to Rs. 15 lakhs. One caring to enquire into the cause of legion of Bengali raiyats taking shelter in the unhealthy jungle of Assam and that of numerous raiyati holdings made khas by the landlords will at once realise the mischief brought about by excessive rate of rent prevalent in Bengal. There is in fact no effective enactment in the Statute Book of Bengal to give adequate relief to the poor raiyats of Bengal. With the object of giving relief to the raiyats of Bengal the mover of this Bill intends to introduce this Bill into this Legislature.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

L. A. BILL No. 22 OF 1943.*

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Government securities issued by the Central Government and to the management by the Reserve Bank of India of the public debt of the Central Government.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Government securities issued by the Central Government and to the management by the Reserve Bank of India of the public debt of the Central Government;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Public Debt (Central Government) Act, 1943.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint in this behalf.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "the bank" means the Reserve Bank of India;

(2) "Government security" means—

(a) a security, created and issued, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, by the Central Government for the purpose of raising a public loan, and having one of the following forms, namely:—

(i) stock transferable by registration in the books of the Bank; or

(ii) a promissory note payable to order; or

(iii) a bearer bond payable to bearer; or

(iv) a form prescribed in this behalf;

(b) any other security created and issued by the Central Government in such form and for such of the purposes of this Act as may be prescribed;

(3) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(4) "promissory note" includes a treasury bill.

3. Transfer of Government securities.—(1) Subject to the provisions of section 5, a transfer of a Government security shall be made only in the manner prescribed for the making of transfers of securities of the class to which it belongs, and no transfer of a Government security shall be valid if—

(a) it does not purport to convey the full title to the security, or

(b) it is of such a nature as to affect the manner in which the security was expressed by the Central Government to be held.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect any order made by the Bank, or any order made by a Court upon the Bank.

4. Transfer of Government securities not liable for amount thereof.—Notwithstanding anything contained in the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 (XXVI of 1881), a person shall not, by reason only of his having transferred a Government security, be liable to pay any money due either as principal or as interest thereunder.

5. Holding of Government securities by holders of public offices.—(1) In the case of any public office to which the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare this sub-section to apply, a Government security in the form of stock or of a promissory note may be held in the name of the office.

(2) When a Government security is so held, it shall be deemed to be transferred without any or further endorsement or transfer deed from each holder of the office to the succeeding holder of the office on and from the date on which the latter takes charge of the office.

(3) When the holder of the office transfers to a party not being his successor in office a Government security so held, the transfer shall be made by the signature of the holder of the office and the name of the office in the manner and subject to the conditions laid down in section 3.

(4) This section applies as well to an office of which there are two or more joint holders as to an office of which there is a single holder.

6. Notice of trust not receivable.—(1) No notice of any trust in respect of any Government security shall be receivable by the Central Government, nor shall the Central Government be bound by any such notice even though expressly given, nor shall the Central Government be regarded as a trustee in respect of any Government security.

(2) Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (1), the Bank may, as an act of grace and without any liability to the Bank or to the Central Government, record in its books such directions by the holder of stock for the payment of interest on, or of the maturity value of, or the transfer of, or such other matters relating to, the stock as the Bank thinks fit.

7. Persons whose title to a Government security of a deceased sole holder may be recognised by the Bank.—Subject to the provisions of section 9 the executors or administrators of a deceased sole holder of a Government security and the holder of a succession certificate issued under Part X of the Indian Succession Act, 1925 (XXXIX of 1925), shall be the only persons who may be recognised by the Bank as having any title to the Government security.

*The Governor General has been pleased to give the previous sanction required by section 153 of the Government of India Act, 1935, to the introduction in the Legislative Assembly of this Bill.

8. Right of survivors of joint or several holders.—Notwithstanding anything contained in section 45 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 (IX of 1872),—

(a) when a Government security is held by two or more persons jointly and either or any of them dies, the title to the security shall vest in the survivor or survivors of those persons, and

(b) when a Government security is held by two or more persons severally and either or any of them dies, the title to the security shall vest in the survivor or survivors of those persons or in the representative of the deceased or in any of them, provided that nothing herein contained shall affect any claim which any representative of a deceased person may have against the survivor or survivors under or in respect of any security to which this section applies.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section a body incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (VII of 1913), or the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912 (II of 1912), or any other enactment for the time being in force whether within or without British India, relating to the incorporation of associations of individuals, shall be deemed to die when it is dissolved, notwithstanding anything contained in section 7.

9. Summary procedure on death of holder of Government securities not exceeding five thousand rupees face value.—If within six months of the death of a person who was the holder of a Government security or securities the face value of which does not in the aggregate exceed five thousand rupees, probate of his will or letters of administration of his estate or a succession certificate issued under Part X of the Indian Succession Act, 1925 (XXXIX of 1925), is not produced to the Bank, the Bank may determine who is the person entitled to the security or securities, or to administer the estate of the deceased and may make an order vesting the security or securities in the person so determined.

10. Government securities not exceeding five thousand rupees face value belonging to minor or insane person.—When a Government security or securities belong to a minor or a person who is insane and incapable of managing his affairs, and the face value of the security or securities does not in the aggregate exceed five thousand rupees, the Bank may make such order as it thinks fit for the vesting of such security or securities in such person as it considers represents the minor or insane person.

11. Issue of duplicate securities and of new securities on conversion, consolidation, sub-division or renewal.—(1) If the person entitled to a Government security applies to the Bank alleging that the security has been lost, stolen or destroyed, or has been defaced or mutilated, the Bank may, on proof to its satisfaction of the loss, theft, destruction, defacement or mutilation of the security, subject to such conditions and on payment of such fees as may be prescribed, order the issue of a duplicate security payable to the applicant.

(2) If the person entitled to a Government security applies to the Bank to have the security converted into a security of another form, or into a security issued in connection with another loan or to have it consolidated with other like securities, or to have it sub-divided, or to have it renewed, the Bank may, subject to such conditions and on payment of such fees as may be prescribed, cancel the security and order the issue of a new security or securities.

(3) The person to whom a duplicate security or a new security is issued under this section shall be deemed for the purposes of section 19 to have been recognised by the Bank as the holder of the security; and a duplicate security or new security so issued to any person shall be deemed to constitute a new contract between the Central Government and such person and all persons deriving title thereafter through him.

12. Summary determination by the Bank of title to Government security in case of dispute.—(1) If the Bank is of opinion that a doubt exists as to the title to a Government security, it may proceed to determine the person who shall for the purposes of the Bank be deemed to be the person entitled thereto.

(2) The Bank shall give notice in writing to each claimant of whom it has knowledge, stating the names of all other claimants and the time when and the officer of the Bank by whom the determination of the Bank will be made.

(3) The Bank shall give notice in writing to each claimant of the result of the determination so made.

(4) On the expiry of six months from the issue of the notices referred to in sub-section (3), the Bank may make an order vesting in the person, found by the Bank to be entitled to the security, the security and any unpaid interest thereon.

13. Law applicable in regard to Government securities.—Notwithstanding that as a matter of convenience the Central Government may have arranged for payments on a Government security to be made elsewhere than in British India, the rights of all persons in relation to Government securities shall be determined in connection with all such questions as are dealt with by this Act by the law and in the Courts of British India.

14. Recording of evidence.—(1) For the purpose of making any order which it is empowered to make under this Act, the Bank may request a District Magistrate or in an Indian State the Political Agent to record or to have recorded the whole or any part of such evidence as any person whose evidence the Bank requires may produce. A District Magistrate so requested may himself record, or may direct any Magistrate of the first class subordinate to him or any Magistrate of the second class subordinate to him and empowered in this behalf by general or special order of the Provincial Government to record the evidence, and shall forward a copy thereof to the Bank.

(2) For the purpose of making a vesting order under this Act the Bank may direct one of its officers to record the evidence of any person whose evidence the Bank requires or may receive evidence upon affidavit.

(3) A Magistrate or an officer of the Bank acting in pursuance of this section may administer an oath to any witness examined by him.

15. Postponement of payments and registration of transfers pending the making of a vesting order.—Where the Bank contemplates making an order under this Act to vest a Government security in any person, the Bank may suspend payment of interest on or the maturity value of the security or postpone the making of any order under section 11 or the registration of any transfer of the security until the vesting order has been made.

16. Power of Bank to require bonds.—(1) Before making any order which it is empowered to make under this Act, the Bank may require the person in whose favour the order is to be made to execute a bond with one or more sureties in such form as may be prescribed or to furnish security not exceeding twice the value of the subject-matter of the order, to be held at the disposal of the Bank, to pay to the Bank or any person to whom the Bank may assign the bond or security in furtherance of sub-section (2) the amount thereof.

(2) A Court before which a claim in respect of the subject-matter of any such order is established may order the bond or security to be assigned to the successful claimant who shall thereupon be entitled to enforce the bond or realise the security to the extent of such claim.

17. Publication of notices in official Gazette.—Any notice required to be given by the Bank under this Act may be served by post, but every such notice shall also be published by the Bank in the official Gazette, and on such publication shall be deemed to have been delivered to all persons for whom it is intended.

18. Scope of vesting order.—An order made by the Bank under this Act may confer the full title to a Government security or may confer a title only to the accrued and accruing interest on the security pending a further order vesting the full title.

19. Legal effect of orders made by the Bank.—No recognition by the Bank of a person as the holder of a Government security, and no order made by the Bank under this Act shall be called in question by any Court so far as such recognition or order affects the relations of the Central Government or the Bank with the person recognised by the Bank as the holder of a Government security or with any person claiming an interest in such security: and any such recognition by the Bank of any person or any order by the Bank vesting a Government security in any person shall operate to confer on that person a title to the security subject only to a personal liability to the rightful owner of the security for money had and received on his account.

20. Stay of proceedings on order of Court.—Where the Bank contemplates making with reference to any Government security any order which it is empowered to make under this Act, and before the order is made the Bank receives from a Court in British India an order to stay the making of such order, the Bank shall either—

(a) hold the security together with any interest unpaid or accruing thereon until the further orders of the Court are received, or

(b) apply to the Court to have the security transferred to the Official Trustees appointed for the Province in which such Court is situated, pending the disposal of the proceedings before the Court.

21. Cancellation by the Bank of vesting proceedings.—Where the Bank contemplates making an order under this Act vesting a Government security in any person the Bank may, at any time before the order is made, cancel any proceedings already taken for that purpose and may, on such cancellation, proceed anew to the making of such order.

22. Discharge in respect of interest on Government securities.—Save as otherwise expressly provided in the terms of a Government security, no person shall be entitled to claim interest on such security in respect of any period which has elapsed after the earliest date on which demand could have been made for the payment of the amount due on such security.

23. Discharge in respect of bearer bonds.—The Central Government shall be discharged from all liability on a bearer bond or on any interest coupon of such a bond on payment to the holder of such bond or coupon on presentation on or after the date when it becomes due of the amount expressed therein, unless before such payment an order of a Court in British India has been served on the Central Government restraining it from making payment.

24. Period of limitation of Central Government's liability in respect of Government securities.—Where no shorter period of limitation is fixed by any law for the time being in force, the liability of the Central Government in respect of a Government security and of any interest payment due on it shall terminate on the expiry of six years from the date on which the amount due on the security or due by way of interest on the security, as the case may be, became payable.

25. Inspection of documents.—No person shall be entitled to inspect, or to receive information derived from any Government security in the possession or custody of the Central Government or from any book, register, or other document kept or maintained by or on behalf of the Central Government in relation to Government securities or any Government security, save in such circumstances and manner and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

26. The Bank and its officers to be deemed public officers.—For the purposes of section 124 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (I of 1872), the provisions of Part IV of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), relating to suits by or against public officers in their official capacity, and the provisions of rule 27 of Order V, and rule 52 of Order XXI of the said Code, the Bank and any officer of the Bank acting in his capacity as such shall be deemed to be a public officer.

27. Penalty.—(1) If any person, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for any other person any title to a Government security, makes to any authority under this Act in any application made under this Act or in the course of any inquiry undertaken in pursuance of this Act any statement which is false and which he either knows to be false or does not believe to be true, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine or with both.

(2) No Court shall take cognisance of any offence under sub-section (1) except on the complaint of the Bank.

28. Power to make rules.—(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the forms in which Government securities may be issued;

(b) the form of the obligations referred to in sub-clause (iv) of clause (b) of section 2;

(c) the conditions subject to which Government securities may be issued to the rulers of Indian States;

(d) the manner in which different forms of Government securities may be transferred;

(e) the holding of Government securities in the form of stock by the holders of offices other than public offices, and the manner in which and the conditions subject to which Government securities so held may be transferred;

(f) the manner in which payment of interest in respect of Government securities is to be made and acknowledged;

(g) the conditions governing the grant of duplicate, renewed, converted, consolidated and sub-divided Government securities;

(h) the fees to be paid in respect of the issue of duplicate Government securities and of the renewal, conversion, consolidation and sub-division of Government securities;

(i) the form in which receipt of a Government security delivered for discharge, renewal, conversion, consolidation or sub-division is to be acknowledged;

(j) the manner of attestation of documents relating to Government securities in the form of stock;

(k) the manner in which any document relating to a Government security or any endorsement on a promissory note issued by the Central Government may, on the demand of a person who from any cause is unable to write, be executed on his behalf;

(l) the form of the bonds referred to in sub-section (l) of section 16;

(m) the circumstance and the manner in which and the conditions subject to which inspection of Government securities, books, registers and other documents may be allowed or information therefrom may be given under section 25;

(n) the procedure to be followed in making vesting orders.

29. Act X of 1920 not to apply to Government securities.—The Indian Securities Act, 1920 (X of 1920), shall cease to apply to Government securities to which this Act applies, and to all matters for which provision is made by this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The great bulk of Government obligations in India have till very recently been expressed in the form of promissory notes which pass from hand to hand by endorsement and delivery. Stock certificates, i.e., certificates which are not negotiable themselves but merely record title, the actual transfers requiring registration in the books of the Public Debt Office, are of comparatively recent introduction. Not unnaturally, therefore, the law of Government securities in India started as an appendage to the law of Negotiable Instruments, modifying it where necessary to meet the peculiar circumstances of Government promissory notes such as (1) their validity for a period much longer than that of the ordinary negotiable instrument of commerce and the concomitant necessity of issuing separate instruments to replace the originals for the record of interest payments, and (2) their being held more widely than ordinary negotiable commercial instruments by various classes of investors in addition to the financial and business community. The fact that Government loans were almost entirely in the form of promissory notes meant that the special modifications of the law, effected from time to time to meet practical difficulties, only related to Government obligations held in this form, with the result that when the previous legislation was revised in the Act of 1920, a clear distinction was not always drawn between those parts of the law which ought to relate to Government securities as a whole and those which merely related to promissory notes. A striking instance of this is provided by section 13 providing for the summary provisional settlement of disputes, which is confined only to promissory notes. Although logically imperfect, this position did not in the past lead to any practical difficulties as the holders of Government loans in the form of stock certificates were comparatively few. As a result of war conditions, however, and the efforts of the Reserve Bank as agents of Government in the management of public debt to popularise stock certificates in the interest of safety and administrative convenience the proportion of Government loans held in the form of stock certificates or in special subsidiary ledger accounts, which the Bank has undertaken to maintain for large institutional holders, has substantially increased, and the time appears to be opportune for recasting the provisions of the Indian Securities Act, 1920, so as to provide more satisfactorily for the management of Central public debt.

2. Apart from the fact that section 13 of the 1920 Act fails to provide for the summary provisional settlement of disputes regarding Government loans held otherwise than as promissory notes, the machinery which it provides is in itself incomplete and there have been numerous cases where on account of a disputant contenting himself with the mere issue of a notice of dispute to the Public Debt Office and abstaining from prosecuting his claim in a court of law, or on account of vague stop orders emanating from Courts, the periodical payment of interest has been held up for unconsciousably long periods, much to the annoyance and prejudice of the actual holder. There have also been numerous instances in which, where the matter has been taken to Court, Government and the Reserve Bank have been made parties to what was essentially a dispute between two private parties in the decision of which Government or the Bank had no interest. It is, therefore, considered desirable to recast this part of the law so as to provide for a summary adjudication by the Reserve Bank of disputes as to the title to be the holder of a security, with a necessary safeguard by way of a guarantee of indemnity to ensure that the interests of the party who may ultimately succeed in establishing in a court of law his right to hold the security are not prejudiced.

3. The legislative competence of the Central Legislature extends, however, only to legislation affecting public debt of the Central Government, while the public debt of a Province is subject to legislation in the Provincial Legislature only. The Act of 1920, which regulates public debt of both kinds, is amenable to amendment by the Central Legislature only in so far as it deals with public debt of the Central Government. The present legislation therefore takes the form of a Bill to be enacted as a separate Act, applicable only to securities of the Central Government, which will reproduce the provisions of the 1920 Act with amendments designed to remedy the defects already referred to, and with certain other amendments the necessity or desirability of which is suggested by experience in the administration of the Act during the last two decades. In this reproduction of the provisions of the 1920 Act, those provisions have been rearranged so as to group together sections dealing with the incidents common to the different forms in which loans of the Central Government are held, and to relegate to separate sections the incidents peculiar to negotiable instruments.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The purpose of the Bill is to do away with nomination in local bodies and also to extend the franchise to include all adult persons within the area under the control of a local body.

The reasons for such amendment are obvious. One of the purposes of Local Self-Government is to associate the people in the administration of their own affairs and thus train them in methods of Government. Nomination cuts across the principle of representation, and the system as it now obtains leads to the anomalous position in which a person in spite of the opposition of the majority of elected members in the local body may be, and often is, elected Chairman of the District Board or President of Union Board, with the help of the nominated members. This encourages ambitious and designing persons to court the favour of local officials in order to secure their position, instead of attempting to win the confidence of their electorate through useful and hard work.

This Bill was originally introduced in 1937 and, after being circulated several times, was referred to a Select Committee of the Council on 6th March, 1942. The Committee concluded its sittings in July, 1942, and submitted its final report to the Council, but before consideration of the Bill could be taken up, the member-in-charge completed his term of office with the result that former notices of the Bill lapsed. The Bill is therefore being reintroduced but it is identical with the Bill as amended in the Select Committee and incorporates all the drafting changes made by the Legislative Department.

THE BENGAL HINDU WOMEN'S RIGHTS TO PROPERTY (EXTENSION TO AGRICULTURAL LAND) BILL, 1943.

A

to give better rights to women to agricultural lands.

WHEREAS by Central Act No. XVIII of 1937 as amended by Act XI of 1938, provisions have been made to give better rights to women in respect of property in general ;

AND

WHEREAS the said Act in its application to Bengal does not extend to agricultural lands ;

AND

WHEREAS it is expedient to give better rights to women in respect of agricultural lands.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Hindu Women's Rights to Property (Extension to Agricultural Land) Act, 1943.

Extent.

2. It extends to the whole of Bengal.

3. The term "property" in the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act (Central Act No. XVIII of 1937) as amended by Act XI of 1938, as in force in the province of Bengal, shall include and shall be deemed to have always included agricultural lands in Bengal and devolution to agricultural lands on and from 1st day of April, 1937, shall be governed and shall always be deemed to have been governed by the provisions of the said Hindu Women's Right to Property Act, 1937, as amended by Act XI of 1938 :

Provided that when any person, who but for this Act, would have been entitled to agricultural lands, has been in possession or has made transfer thereof, his possession till the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to be as lawful and the transfer made by him shall be deemed to be as valid and effective as if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937 (Central Act No. XVIII of 1937) as amended by Central Act XI of 1938, does not operate to give better rights to women with respect to agricultural lands in Governors' Provinces as has been ruled by the Federal Court (vide 45 C.W.N., page 81 F. R.) while it operates to regulate the devolution of all other properties. According to the laws now in force in Bengal, all properties other than agricultural lands devolve upon such women in accordance with the said Hindu Women's Property Act XVIII of 1937. It is not desirable that in cases of such women there should co-exist two different laws of devolution of property according as it is agricultural or non-agricultural. There has also been numerous transfers of property on the basis of the right under the said Central Act before the said decision of the Federal Court.

It is with a view to have agricultural lands devolve on the same principle as other properties that this Bill is introduced.

In order to avoid hardship, possession up to the date of commencement of this Act of persons who would, but for this Act, have been entitled to hold such land, and transfers already effected are sought to be legalised and validated.

THE INDIAN LUNACY (BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1943.

A

further to amend the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, in its application to Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, in its application to the Province of Bengal in the manner hereinafter appearing, it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act shall be called the Indian Lunacy (Bengal Amendment) Act, 1943.

2. In the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, after section 33, the following new sections shall be added, namely:—

"33A. (1) When any relative or any other person interested in the welfare of a lunatic detained in any asylum under the provision of sections 7, 10, 14, 15 or 17 desires that such lunatic shall be temporarily released and delivered over to his care and custody he may apply in writing to the person in charge of the asylum, thereupon such person shall pass an order for the temporary release of such lunatic for a period not exceeding sixty days unless for any reason he thinks that such release is not desirable and should not be made.

(2) No order under sub-section (1) for the temporary release of a lunatic detained under section 7 or 10 shall be passed except on an application of the petitioner on whose petition such lunatic was detained or without the consent in writing of such petitioner:

Provided that if in any such particular case if the officer-in-charge of the lunatic asylum is of opinion that the petitioner as mentioned in sub-section (2) is refusing his consent, with just cause or reason, he shall refer the application made under sub-section (1) to him to the Magistrate having jurisdiction over such lunatic under section 7 or 10 and the Magistrate may, after making such enquiry as he thinks fit, order the temporary release of the lunatic for the period specified in sub-section (1).

33B. An order made for the release of any lunatic under section 33A may be set aside by any Magistrate having jurisdiction under sections 7, 10, 14, 15 or 17 on any reasonable ground except on the ground that the lunatic was not in a fit state of mind when the order for his temporary release under section 33A was passed. On such order being passed by the Magistrate, the lunatic shall be readmitted and detained in the asylum as before.

33C. If a lunatic temporarily released under section 33A is, during the period of such release, found to be unmanageable or dangerous and unfit to be kept at large the person, on whose care and custody the lunatic was temporarily released, may take back to the asylum, and such lunatic shall be readmitted and detained in the asylum as before.

33D. If a lunatic released under section 33A does not return to the asylum at the end of the period for which he was released and no order for his discharge has been made under section 31 or 33 or if such lunatic is at any time during the period of such release found to be unmanageable or dangerous or unfit to be at large and the person on whose application such lunatic was released applies to the person in charge of the asylum stating that he is unable to bring him to the asylum, such lunatic shall be deemed to have escaped from the asylum and may at any time be retaken to and readmitted and detained in the asylum in the manner provided in section 36 provided that such a person shall be deemed to be discharged if on or before the period for which he was released, the Board of Visitors on receipt of a certificate from a registered medical practitioner or as a result of enquiry made by the person in charge of the asylum is satisfied that the person may with safety be discharged."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This is a simple amendment which provides for the temporary release of any lunatic detained in the asylum for a period of sixty days by the person in charge of the asylum or the Magistrate on the application of any relative or friend of such lunatic under some conditions. There is no such provision now.

If the Collector finds that no such amount is due he will inform the Officer-in-charge accordingly.

(2) The District Magistrate may order the ejectment from the site allotted to any licensee who contravenes any rule made by the District Magistrate under this Act.

14. The Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, delegate the power conferred on it under section 3(iii) or 12(2) to any authority subordinate to it.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Numerous are the melas which are held in every year in different districts of Bengal. Though there are some provisions and rules for the regulation of the same there is no comprehensive Act to regulate the melas in Bengal. In most of these melas, the sanitary and other arrangements are most defective. In the proposed Bill, provisions have been made for sanitary arrangement and construction of stalls and huts, etc. Certain class of melas such as melas to be held under local authority or melas to be held in connection with Muslim shrine or dargha has been excluded from the operation of this Bill. Provisions have been made for formation of Mela Committees, formation of Mela Fund to be used for the benefit of the melas for licensing of stalls, etc., for taking steps to prevent spread and outbreak of fire, disease, etc., for supply of drinking water. There is a necessity of such a legislation in Bengal.

Provided further that, in the case of a member permitted to serve in the armed forces of the Crown during an emergency, the amount of his subscription to the Fund shall be calculated on the emoluments he would have drawn if he had remained in civil employment, and that subscription to the Fund shall be optional while he is serving out of India.

Provided that—

11.—(1) If the total amount of any subscriptions or payments substituted under clause (a) of Rule 10 is less than the amount of the minimum subscription payable to the Fund under Rule 6, the difference shall be rounded to the nearest whole rupee (8 annas and more counting as the next higher rupee), and paid by the subscriber as a subscription to the Fund.

(2) If the subscriber withdraws any amount standing to his credit in the Fund for any of the purposes specified in clause (b) of Rule 10, he shall, subject to his option under clause (a) of that Rule, continue to pay to the Fund the subscriptions payable under Rule 6.

(2) The policy shall be on the life of the subscriber himself or on the joint lives of the subscriber and of his wife and shall, unless it is a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife and/or his children or any of them, be such as may be legally assigned by the subscriber himself to Government:

Provided that a policy which has been assigned to the subscriber's wife shall not be accepted unless either the policy is first reassigned to the subscriber or the subscriber and his wife both join in an appropriate assignment:

Provided further that subscribers who have taken out policies under Note I to Rule 21 (ii) or under clause (b) or clause (c) of Rule 21-A of the Rules in force on 31st March, 1936, shall remain subject to the provisions of those Rules in so far as policies so taken out are concerned.

(3) The policy may not be effected for the benefit of any beneficiary other than the wife and/or children of the subscriber or any of them and may not be an educational endowment policy, if such policy is due for payment in whole or in part before the subscriber attains the age for superannuation.

13. (1) The policy shall be delivered to the Account Officer within three months or, in the case of an insurance company whose headquarters are outside India, within such longer period as the Account Officer, if he is satisfied by the production of the completion certificate (interim receipt), may fix, after the first withholding of a subscription or withdrawal from the Fund in respect of the policy. If it is not a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of the wife and/or children of the subscriber or any of them, it shall, before delivery, be assigned to Government.

(2) The terms of a policy which has been accepted by an Account Officer for the purpose of being financed from the Fund shall not be altered nor shall it be exchanged for another policy without the prior consent of the Account Officer to whom details of the alteration or of the new policy shall be furnished.

(3) If the policy is not delivered in accordance with the provisions of sub-rule (1), any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy shall, with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 7, forthwith be paid or repaid, as the case may be, by the subscriber to the Fund, or, in default, be ordered by Government to be recovered by deduction from the pay or leave salary of the subscriber by instalments or otherwise, as it may direct.

(4) Notice of assignment of a policy shall be given by the subscriber to the insurance company and the acknowledgment of the notice by the insurance company shall be sent to the Account Officer within three months of the date of assignment.

14. A subscriber shall not during the currency of the policy draw any bonus the drawal of which during such currency is optional under the terms of the policy and the amount of any bonus which under the terms of the policy the subscriber has no option to refrain from drawing during its currency shall be paid forthwith into the Fund by the subscriber or in default recovered by deduction from his pay or leave salary by instalments or otherwise as may be directed by Government.

15. (1) Save as provided by Rule 19, when the subscriber—

(a) quits the service, or

(b) has proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement and applies to the Account Officer for reassignment or return of the policy, or

(c) while on leave has been permitted to retire or is required to retire on grounds of ill-health and applies to the Account Officer for re-assignment or return of the policy, or

(d) pays or repays to the Fund the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn therefrom under Rule 10 on account of an insurance policy, together with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 7, the Account Officer shall,—

(i) if the policy has been assigned to Government, re-assign it to the subscriber or, as the case may be, to the subscriber and the joint assured, and make it over to the subscriber together with a signed notice of re-assignment addressed to the insurance company, and

(ii) if the policy has been delivered to the Account Officer, make it over to the subscriber:

Provided that if a subscriber to whom clause (b) or clause (c) applies returns to duty any policy so re-assigned or made over shall, if it has not matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way, be again assigned to Government and delivered to the Account Officer in the manner provided in Rule 13, and thereupon the provisions of these Rules shall, so far as may be, again apply in respect of the policy:

Provided further that if the policy has matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way the provisions of sub-rule (3) of Rule 13 shall apply.

(2) Save as provided by Rule 19, when the subscriber dies before quitting the service, the Account Officer shall,—

(i) if the policy has been assigned to Government, re-assign it to the person legally entitled to receive it, and make it over to him together with a signed notice of re-assignment addressed to the insurance company, and

(ii) if the policy has been delivered to the Account Officer, make it over to the beneficiary, or if there is no beneficiary, to the person legally entitled to receive it.

16. (1) If a policy assigned to Government matures before the subscriber quits the service, or being a policy on the joint lives of the subscriber and his wife, also assigned to Government, falls due for payment by reason of the death of the subscriber's wife, the Account Officer shall, save as provided by Rule 19, proceed as follows:—

(a) If the amount assured together with the amount of any accrued bonuses is greater than the whole of the amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 7, the Account Officer shall re-assign the policy to the subscriber or to the subscriber and to the joint assured, as the case may be, and make it over to the subscriber, who shall immediately on receipt of the policy monies from the insurance company pay or repay to the Fund the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn with interest, and, in default, the provisions of sub-rule (3) of Rule 13 shall apply;

(b) If the amount assured together with the amount of any accrued bonuses is less than the whole of the amount withheld or withdrawn with interest, the Account Officer shall realise the amount assured together with any accrued bonuses and shall place the amount so realised to the credit of the subscriber in the Fund.

(2) Save as provided by Rule 19, if a policy delivered to the Account Officer under Rule 13 matures before the subscriber quits the service, the Account Officer shall make over the policy to the subscriber:

Provided that if the interest in the policy of the wife and/or children of a subscriber, or any of them, as expressed on the face of the policy, expires when the policy matures, the subscriber, if the policy monies are paid to him by the insurance company, shall immediately on receipt thereof pay or repay to the Fund either—

(a) the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy, together with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 7, or

(b) an amount equal to the amount assured together with any accrued bonuses, whichever is less, and in default the provisions of sub-rule (3) of Rule 13 shall apply.

17. If the interest of the subscriber in the family pension fund ceases, in whole or in part, from any cause whatsoever, the account of the subscriber in the Fund shall forthwith be reimbursed by the amount of the refund secured by the subscriber from the family pension fund, which amount shall, in default of reimbursement, be deducted from the subscriber's pay or leave salary by instalments or otherwise as may be directed by Government.

18. If the policy lapses or is assigned otherwise than to Government under Rule 13, charged or encumbered, the provisions of sub-rule (3) of the said Rule shall apply.

19. If the Account Officer receives notice of—

(a) an assignment (otherwise than an assignment to Government under Rule 13), or

(b) a charge or encumbrance on, or

(c) an order of a Court restraining dealings with the policy or any amount realised thereon, he shall not make over or re-assign the policy as provided in Rule 15 or realise the amount assured by the policy or re-assign or make over the policy as provided in Rule 16, but shall refer the matter to Government.

20 If the authority competent to sanction an advance under Rule 8 is satisfied that money drawn from the Fund under that Rule, or withheld or withdrawn from the Fund under Rule 10, has been utilised for a purpose other than that for which the money was allowed to be drawn, withheld or withdrawn, the amount in question shall, with interest at the rate provided in Rule 7, forthwith be repaid or paid as the case may be by the subscriber to the Fund or in default be ordered by Government to be recovered from the subscriber's pay or leave salary in one or more instalments as it thinks fit.

21. Except as provided in Rule 10, the amount standing to the credit of a subscriber in the Fund shall not be withdrawn until he quits the service or dies:

Provided that a subscriber who has been granted leave preparatory to retirement or, in the case of one serving in a vacation department, has been allowed to combine vacation with such leave, or who, while on leave, is either permitted to retire voluntarily or is required to retire on ground of ill-health may withdraw the amount standing to his credit at any time between the commencement of the leave or vacation as the case may be or the date of such permission or requirement as the case may be and the date of actual retirement, but if he returns to duty he shall, if required to do so by Government, pay to the Fund the whole or part of the amount withdrawn by him together with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 7. A subscriber who exercises the option allowed by this proviso shall not subscribe to the Fund after such withdrawal unless and until he returns to duty.

22. On the death of a subscriber before the amount standing to his credit has become payable, or, where the amount has become payable, before payment has been made:—

(1) When the subscriber leaves a family—

(a) If a nomination in favour of a member or members of his family subsists, the amount standing to his credit in the Fund or the part thereof to which the nomination relates shall be paid to his nominee or nominees in the proportion specified in the nomination.

(b) If no such nomination subsists, or, if such nomination relates only to a part of the amount standing to his credit in the Fund, the whole amount or the part thereof to which the nomination does not relate, as the case may be, shall notwithstanding any nomination purporting to be in favour of any person or persons other than a member or members of his family be paid to the members of his family in equal share:

Provided that no shares shall be payable to—

(1) sons who have attained legal majority,

(2) sons of a deceased son who have attained legal majority,

(3) married daughters whose husbands are alive,

(4) married daughters of a deceased son whose husbands are alive; if there is any member of the family, other than those specified in clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4) of the proviso;

Provided further that the widow or widows and the child or children of a deceased son shall receive between them in equal parts only the share which that son would have received if he had survived the subscriber and had been exempt from the provisions of clause (1) of the first proviso.

(2) When the subscriber leaves no family, if a nomination in favour of any person or persons subsists, the amount standing to his credit in the Fund or the part thereof to which the nomination relates shall be paid to his nominee or nominees in the proportion specified in the nomination, and, if no nomination subsists it shall be paid to the person legally entitled to receive it.

23. All payments from the Fund shall be made in India in rupees.

24. If a person who is a subscriber to any other Government Provident Fund which is a non-contributory Provident Fund is permanently transferred to pensionable service under the rule-making control of the Secretary of State, the amount of subscriptions together with interest thereon standing to his credit in such other fund at the date of transfer shall be transferred to his credit in the Fund.

25. As soon as possible after the close of each year each subscriber shall be supplied with a statement of his account in the Fund which shall show the opening balance as on 1st April of the year the total amount credited or debited during the year, the amount of interest credited as on the 31st March of the year, and the closing balance as on that date.

26. (1) Until the commencement of Part II of the Act references in these Rules to the Governor General shall be construed as references to the Governor General in Council.

(2) In the discharge of his functions under these Rules the Governor shall exercise his individual judgment.

27. The General Provident Fund (Superior Civil Services) Rules are hereby repealed.

If the subscriber fails to intimate before proceeding on leave he will be deemed to have exercised his option in favour of subscribing during leave and deductions should be made accordingly.

(iv) The instructions in sub-paragraph 2 (iii) will apply mutatis mutandis to a subscriber serving out of India in the armed forces of the Crown.

(3) If the subscriber was on foreign service on the 31st March of the preceding year, the amount of the subscription will be based on the pay in foreign service.

3. Interest (Rule 7).—For the purposes of Rule 7, recoveries will be treated as having been credited to the Fund on the first day of the month in which they are made but if in cases falling under paragraph 2 (4) (iii) above the amount is not received by the Account Officer before the fifth day of the month, the recoveries will be treated as having been credited on the first day of the next succeeding month.

4. Advances (Rules 8 and 9).—(1) The following authorities are empowered to grant advances from the Fund—

(i) A Department of the Government of India.

(ii) A Chief Commissioner.

(iii) Heads of Departments whose names appear in Appendix No. 14 to the Supplementary Rules, not including any authority which a Chief Commissioner may declare to be a head of a Department.

(3) If an advance drawn by a subscriber is subsequently disallowed before repayment is completed, the whole or the balance of the amount shall, with interest at the rate provided in Rule 7, forthwith be repaid or in default be ordered by Government to be recovered from the subscriber's pay or leave salary in one or more instalments as it thinks fit.

5. Payments towards policies of insurance or subscriptions to a family pension fund (Rule 10)—

(1) When a subscriber desires to divert or withdraw money from the Fund to pay subscriptions to an approved Family Pension Fund or a premium towards a policy of Life Insurance under Rule 10, he shall intimate to his Account Officer on his pay bill or by letter the fact of, and reason for, the reduction or withdrawal of money as the case may be. In the latter case he may also make necessary arrangements with the Account Officer for the withdrawal of money from the Fund.

(2) The Account Officer shall demand periodically to see the receipts or certified copies thereof showing that the amount so withheld or withdrawn has been duly applied. Failing the production of such receipts the matter shall be reported to Government which shall order the recovery of any amount by which subscriptions have been reduced or any amount withdrawn, with interest thereon at the rate prescribed in Rule 7 from the subscriber's pay or leave salary in one or more instalments as it thinks fit.

7. Recovery of the amount withdrawn under the proviso to Rule 21 –

Where a subscriber has to repay to the Fund under the proviso to Rule 21, the whole or part of the amount withdrawn by him, Government will determine whether the amount should be repaid in one or more instalments and in cash or securities or both.

8. Final Payments (Rules 21 and 22)—

(3) Sums not claimed for a period of six months after they have become payable will, at the end of the year, be transferred from the account head "General Provident Fund" to the account head "Deposits" and treated under the ordinary rules relating to deposits. Such transfer does not however affect the fiduciary capacity in which the sums are held by Government.

9. Statement of Account (Rule 25)—

(1) The Account Officer will assign a number to the account of each subscriber, and when paying subscriptions in India, the subscriber should quote this number.

(2) Subscribers are required to satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of annual statements. (3) If the total amount of interest allowed under sub-rules (1) and (2) contains a fraction of a rupee it shall be rounded off to the nearest whole rupee, eight annas and more counting as the next higher rupee;

(4) Before the amount at the credit of a subscriber is finally paid, his account shall be credited with interest up to the month preceding that in which the payment is made or tendered, or up to the end of the sixth month after the end of the month in which he quitted the service or died, whichever of these periods is less;

(5) The rate of interest is liable to revision on the 1st April of each year without notice;

(6) Interest shall not be credited to the account of a Muhammadan subscriber if he informs the Account Officer that he does not wish to receive it, but if he subsequently asks for interest, it shall be credited with effect from the 1st April of the year in which he asks for it.

5. (1) Each subscriber shall as soon as may be after joining the Fund send to the Account Officer a nomination conferring on one or more persons the right to receive the amount that may stand to his credit in the Fund, in the event of his death before that amount has become payable, or having become payable, has not been paid:

Provided that if, at the time of making the nomination the subscriber has a family the nomination shall not be in favour of any person or persons other than the members of his family.

(2) If a subscriber nominates more than one person under sub-rule (1), he shall specify in the nomination the amount or share payable to each of the nominees in such manner as to cover the whole of the amount that may stand to his credit in the Fund at any time.

(3) A subscriber may at any time cancel a nomination by sending a notice in writing to the Account Officer:

Provided that the subscriber shall along with such notice send a fresh nomination made in accordance with the provisions of sub-rules (1) and (2).

(4) Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-rule (3) a subscriber shall along with every nomination made by him under this Rule send to the Account Officer—

(b) if the nomination is made at a time when the subscriber has no family, a notice to the effect that in the event of his thereafter acquiring a family the nomination shall forthwith stand cancelled.

(5) Immediately on the occurrence of any event by reason of which the notice of cancellation referred to in sub-rule (4) becomes operative and the nomination to which that notice relates consequently stands cancelled, the subscriber shall send to the Account Officer a fresh nomination made in accordance with the provisions of sub-rules (1) and (2).

(6) Every nomination made, and every notice of cancellation given, by a subscriber shall, to the extent that it is valid and operative take effect on the date on which it is received by the Account Officer.

6. (1) The account of each subscriber who either joined the Indian Civil Service after 4th January, 1923, and has elected to join the Fund under the option allowed by the Rules previously in force, or has joined the Indian Civil Service after the institution of the Fund shall, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (2), be credited on retirement or previous death with the sum of Rs. 6,000 and the accounts of other subscribers shall be credited with the amounts specified in the Schedule to these Rules.

(2) This contribution shall not be paid to any subscriber who is dismissed or removed from the service or who resigns without being entitled to a gratuity or annuity.

(3) If a subscriber retires under the Premature Retirement Rules the amount of the contribution shall be determined by the Secretary of State.

7. Subject to the conditions hereinafter stated:—

(a) subscriptions to a family pension fund approved in this behalf by the Secretary of State or payments towards an insurance-policy may, at the option of a subscriber, be substituted for the whole or part of the subscriptions to the Fund;

(i) payments towards an insurance policy;

(ii) purchase of a single payment insurance policy;

(iii) payment of a single premium or subscriptions to a family pension fund approved in this behalf by the Secretary of State:

Provided that no amount shall be withdrawn to meet any demand or purchase made or effected more than 12 months before the withdrawal.

8. (1) If the total amount of any subscriptions or payments substituted under clause (a) of Rule 7 is less than the amount of the subscription payable to the Fund under Rule 3, the difference shall be rounded off to the nearest rupee in the manner provided in that Rule and paid by the subscriber as a subscription to the Fund.

(2) If the subscriber withdraws any amount standing to his credit in the Fund for any of the purposes specified in clause (b) of Rule 7, he shall, subject to his option under clause (a) of that Rule, continue to pay to the Fund the subscriptions payable under Rule 3.

9. If the interest of the subscriber in the family pension fund ceases in whole or in part from any cause whatsoever, the account of the subscriber in the Fund shall forthwith be reimbursed by the amount of the refund secured by the subscriber from the family pension fund, which amount shall in default of reimbursement be deducted from the subscriber's emoluments by instalments or otherwise as may be directed by Government.

10. (1) Government will not make any payments on behalf of subscribers to insurance companies nor take steps to keep the policy alive.

(2) The policy shall be on the life of the subscriber himself and shall, unless it is a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife and/or his children or any of them, be such as may be legally assigned by the subscriber himself to the Governor General or the Governor of the Province under whose administrative control he is serving.

(3) The policy may not be effected for the benefit of any beneficiary other than the wife and/or children of the subscriber or any of them.

11. (1) The policy shall within three months or, if the headquarters of the insurance company are outside India, within such longer period as the Account Officer, if he is satisfied by the production of the completion certificate (interim receipt), may fix, after the first withholding of a subscription or withdrawal from the Fund in respect of the policy be delivered to the Account Officer, but if it is not a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of the wife and/or children of the subscriber or any of them, it shall be assigned to the Governor General or the Governor of the Province under whose administrative control he is serving, before such delivery.

(2) If the policy is not delivered within the period of three months or such longer period as the Account Officer may have fixed, any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy shall, with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 4, forthwith be paid or repaid as the case may be by the subscriber to the Fund, or in default be ordered by Government to be recovered by deduction from the emoluments of the subscriber by instalments or otherwise.

(3) Notice of assignment of the policy shall be given by the subscriber to the insurance company and the acknowledgment of the notice by the insurance company shall be sent to the Account Officer within three months of the date of assignment.

12. (1) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of Rule 14 when the subscriber—

(a) quits the service, or

(b) has proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement and applies to the Account Officer for reassignment or return of the policy, or the Account Officer shall make over the policy to the subscriber, having first reassigned to him any policy assigned to the Governor General or the Governor:

Provided that if a subscriber to whom clause (b) or clause (c) applies, returns to duty any policy so reassigned or made over shall, if it has not matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way, be again assigned to the Governor General or Governor as the case may be, and again be delivered to the Account Officer as the case may be in the manner provided in Rule 11 and thereupon the provisions of these Rules shall so far as may be, again apply in respect of the policy;

Provided further that if the policy has matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way the provisions of sub-rule (2) of Rule 11 shall apply.

(2) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of Rule 14, when a subscriber dies before quitting the service, the Account Officer shall make over the policy to the beneficiary, if any, or if there is no beneficiary, to such person as may be legally entitled to receive it, having first reassigned any policy assigned to the Governor General or the Governor to such person as may be legally entitled to receive it.

13. Save as provided in sub-rule (2) of Rule 14, if a policy delivered to the Account Officer matures before the subscriber quits the Service and before his death the Account Officer shall make over the policy to the subscriber, who shall pay or repay to the Fund the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 4 and in default the provisions of sub-rule (2) of Rule 11 shall apply, but if the policy has been assigned to the Governor General or the Governor the Account Officer shall realise the amount assured and shall deduct therefrom the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy with interest thereon at the rate provided in Rule 4, and shall place the amount so deducted to the credit of the subscriber in the Fund, the balance if any being, at the option of the subscriber, paid direct to him or placed to his credit in the Fund.

14. (1) If the policy lapses or becomes assigned otherwise than to the Governor General or Governor, charged or encumbered, the provisions of sub-rule (2) of Rule 11 shall apply.

(2) If the Account Officer receives notice of an assignment otherwise than an assignment to the Governor General or the Governor, of, or a charge or encumbrance on, or an order of a Court restraining dealings with, the policy or any amount thereon, the Account Officer shall not make over or reassign the policy or realise the amount assured by the policy or dispose of any part thereof, but shall refer the matter to the Governor General or Governor as the case may be.

15. Except as provided in Rule 7, the amount standing to the credit of a subscriber in the Fund shall not be withdrawn until he quits the Service or dies:

Provided that a subscriber who has been granted leave preparatory to retirement or, in the case of one serving in a vacation department, has been allowed to combine vacation with such leave or who while on leave, is either permitted to retire voluntarily or is required to retire on grounds of ill-health, may withdraw the amount standing to his credit at any time between the commencement of the leave or vacation as the case may be, or the date of such permission or requirement as the case may be, and the date of actual retirement, but if he returns to duty at the end of his leave he shall if required to do so by Government pay to the Fund the whole amount withdrawn by him with interest thereon. A subscriber who exercises the option allowed by this proviso shall not subscribe to the Fund after such withdrawal unless and until he returns to duty.

16. On the death of a subscriber before the amount standing to his credit has become payable or, where the amount has become payable, before payment has been made.

(1) When the subscriber leaves a family—

(b) If no such nomination subsists or if such nomination relates only to a part of the amount standing to his credit in the Fund, the whole amount or the part thereof to which the nomination does not relate as the case may be shall, notwithstanding any nomination purporting to be in favour of any person or persons other than a member or members of his family be paid to the members of his family in equal shares;

Provided that no share shall be payable to—

(ii) sons of a deceased son who have attained legal majority;

Provided further that the widow or widows and the child or children of a deceased son shall receive between them in equal parts only the share which that son would have received if he had survived the subscriber and had been exempt from the provisions of clause (i) of the first proviso,

(2) When the subscriber leaves no family, if a nomination in favour of any person or persons subsists, the amount standing to his credit in the Fund or the part thereof to which the nomination relates shall be paid to his nominee or nominees in the proportion specified in the nomination, and if no nomination subsists it shall be paid to the person legally entitled to receive it.

17. All payments from the Fund shall be made in India in Rupees.

18. As soon as possible after the close of each year each subscriber shall be supplied with a statement of his account in the Fund which shall

No. D. 38-A.S.D./43.—With reference to the Indian Civil Service (Non-European Members) Provident Fund Rules, made by the Secretary of State on the 29th March 1943, the following instructions are issued by the Government of India for the guidance of subscribers to the Fund and of Account Officers:—

1. Subscriptions (Rule 3).—(1) Before proceeding on extraordinary leave without leave salary or on leave with leave salary under Fundamental Rule 88, the subscriber should intimate to the Account Officer in India whether he wishes to subscribe during such leave. No alteration will be permissible in the option so exercised for the period of the leave. If the subscriber fails to intimate before proceeding on leave he will be deemed to have exercised his option in favour of subscribing during leave and deductions should be made accordingly.

(2) The instructions in sub-para. (1) will apply mutatis mutandis to a subscriber under suspension during which reduced remuneration is drawn.

(3) A subscriber transferred to foreign service or sent on deputation out of India shall, before proceeding to join his new duties, intimate to the Account Officer in India the amount of his emoluments while on foreign service or deputation out of India and any change therein in order to enable the Account Officer to verify whether the rate of subscription is in accordance with Rule 3.

(4) Subscriptions to the Fund will be recovered—

(i) in respect of emoluments drawn from a Government Treasury in India or a Colonial or Home Treasury, by deduction from the emoluments;

(ii) in respect of sterling overseas pay by deduction in India from pay; and

(iii) in respect of emoluments drawn from any other source, in cash, the subscriber remitting the amount direct to the Account Officer.

(5) All subscriptions made by a member together with interest on such subscriptions calculated under rule 4 and Government contribution under rule 6 should be credited to his account in the Fund.

2. Nominations (Rule 5).—Nominations under sub-rule (1), and notices of cancellation under sub-rule (4), should be in such one of the forms appended to these instructions as is appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Contribution by Government (Rule 6).—In the case of a subscriber on foreign service, a contribution of Rs. 15 a month should be recovered from the foreign employer towards Government's liability under rule 6. Such contribution is payable during duty only.

4. Payments towards policies of insurance or subscriptions to a family pension fund (Rule 7).—When a subscriber desires to divert or withdraw money from the Fund to pay subscriptions to an approved Family Pension Fund or a premium towards a policy of life insurance under Rule 7, he shall intimate to his Account Officer on his pay bill or by letter the fact of, and reason for, the reduction or withdrawal of money as the case may be. In the latter case he may also make necessary arrangements with the Account Officer for the withdrawal of money from the Fund.

(2) The Account Officer shall demand periodically to see the receipts or certified copies thereof showing that the amount so withheld or withdrawn has been duly applied. Failing the production of such receipts he shall order the recovery of any amount by which subscriptions have been reduced or any amount withdrawn, with interest thereon at the rate prescribed in Rule 4 from the subscriber's pay or leave salary in one or more instalments as it thinks fit.

5. Assignments and Re-assignments (Rules 11, 12 and 13).—Assignments under rule 11 and re-assignments under rule 12 or 13, as the case may be, should be in such one of the forms appended to these instructions as is appropriate in the circumstances.

6. Recovery of the amount withdrawn under the proviso to Rule 15.—When a subscriber has to repay to the Fund under the proviso to rule 15, the whole amount withdrawn by him, Government will determine whether the amount should be repaid in one or more instalments and in cash or securities or both.

7. Final payments (Rules 15 and 16).—(1) The Account Officer will be responsible for making final payments under rule 15 or 16. If payment is made under rule 16 any person claiming payment should send a written application to that Officer. In a case where there is doubt or dispute, but only with regard to a portion of the amount standing to the credit of a subscriber, the Account Officer should authorise prompt payment of that portion in regard to which there is no dispute. The persons to whom any amount is payable from the Fund should make their own arrangements to receive payment in India.

(2) If the person to whom any payment is to be made from the Fund is a lunatic, payment should be made to the authority entitled under the law to receive payment on his behalf.

(3) Sums not claimed for a period of six months after they have become payable will, at the end of the year, be transferred from the account head "Indian Civil Service (Non-European Members) Provident Fund" to the account head "Deposits" and treated under the ordinary rules relating to deposits. Such transfer does not however affect the fiduciary capacity in which the sums are held by Government.

8. Statement of account (Rule 18).—(1) The Account Officer will assign a number to the account of each subscriber, and when paying subscriptions in India, the subscriber should quote this number.

(2) Subscribers are required to satisfy themselves as to the correctness of the annual statements. Errors, if any, should be brought to the notice of the Account Officer within six months of receiving a statement. If no statement of account is received by the 1st of October, the subscriber should communicate with the Account Officer.

(3) The Account Officer shall, if required by a subscriber once, but not more than once, in a year, inform the subscriber of the total amount standing to his credit in the Fund at the end of the last month for which his account has been written up.

6. In the event of more candidates than provided for in rule 4 being registered for examination in any year, the number admitted to the Bengal Engineering College or Dacca Centre may be increased for that year. All candidates must appear at the same paper examination.

7. Candidates practising in the courts of the Presidency, Rajshahi and Burdwan Divisions will be required to present themselves at the Bengal Engineering College; and those in Dacca and Chittagong Divisions and in Assam, at Dacca.

The form may be had from the Principal, Bengal Engineering College.

9. Each application must be accompanied by a receipt from the local treasury certifying to the payment of the examination fee of Rs. 50 (in the case of Class II candidates) and Rs. 75 (in the case of Class I candidates) under the head "XXVI—Education—(Provincial—Bengal) —Examination fees for Pleaders' Survey Examination", which fee will in no case be returned.

1. Classes for the training of pleaders in surveying will be opened in January 1944 at the Bengal Engineering College, and the Ahsanullah School of Engineering, Dacca, for both Class I and Class II candidates, provided sufficient candidates register their names at each centre.

2. The courses will last for ten weeks and will consist of practical work combined with class instruction. The routine and hours of attendance will be settled by the heads of the institutions, who will also decide the exact locality in which the classes will be held and date of the opening.

3. Pleaders must make their own arrangements for attending this course. No tents or other residential accommodation will be provided.

4. Credit for attendance at these classes will not be given unless the pleader has been present for 80 per cent. of the working days and for the full working hours for each day. The attendance must be distributed over the course so that no subject is neglected.

5. Candidates should usually have knowledge in Mathematics equivalent to the standard of Additional Mathematics prescribed for the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University and must make an application, for which there is no prescribed form, to the Principal, Bengal Engineering College, for registering their names not later than the 30th November 1943. The application of a candidate must be endorsed by the District Judge. It should state the centre which the candidate wishes to join, i.e., Bengal Engineering College or Ahsanullah School of Engineering, Dacca, and should be accompanied by a remittance receipt from the local treasury certifying that the fee of Rs. 100 (for each of the Class I and Class II candidates) has been paid into the treasury to the credit of the Secretary, Pleaders' Survey Examination Board under the head "XXVI—Education—(Provincial—Bengal) —Fees for Pleaders' Survey Training Class".

6. He will then inform the candidates as to the locality and the date of opening of the class.

Second Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1943-44.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1941-42, the area under cotton in the territories to which this forecast relates has represented in the province of Bengal some 0·3 per cent. and that in the Tripura State some 0·1 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops, early and late. The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill-tracts, Mymensingh and in the Tripura State as also to a small extent in the other districts. The late crop is grown mainly in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—The weather has, on the whole, been favourable and the present condition of the crop is fair. No report regarding the sowing of the late variety has since been received from Bankura and Midnapore.

Area sown.—The area sown with the early variety is reported to be 83,768 acres as against 106,286 acres in the corresponding forecast of the last year. Of the late variety an area of 45 acres is reported to have been sown so far in the Mymensingh district only as against 295 acres reported last year from the districts of Mymensingh and Midnapore.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.
